

Local Bouncy Castle Hire – New Directory

Over the years a number of directories for Bouncy Castle Hire Companies have appeared and then disappeared and Inflated News had intended to produce a general directory in the future to run alongside their directory for TIPE subscribers. This development was due to have taken place in 2008.

In early December Inflated News was informed of a new directory, Local Bouncy Castle Hire, which was due to launch in early 2008. Having looked at the test site and monitored its progress the Inflated News team discussed the venture with the site developers. Following these discussions Inflated News has decided to shelve its proposed new directory and work with the team at Local Bouncy Castle Hire in the promotion of this new site.

Inflated News was impressed with this site for a number of reasons.

- a) It is easy to register and for the design team to verify applications to join the list.
- b) It continually checks for broken links and automatically notifies the design team.
- c) The site is modern and fresh in its look
- d) The site is extremely user friendly

The site went 'live' on 1st January 2008 and can be viewed at www.localbouncycastlehire.com.

Bouncy Castle Hire Companies wishing to add their details to this directory should visit <http://www.localbouncycastlehire.com/guidelines.php> and complete the online form.

The full story of Local Bouncy Castle Hire will appear in the March issue of Inflated News and in the meantime the Inflated News team wishes all at Local Bouncy Castle Hire every success.
